WARNING: The doing of an unauthorized act in relation to copyright work may result in both a civil claim for damages and criminal prosecution

The Malaysian Medical Association (hereinafter referred to as MMA) published the Schedule of Fees in 1987,1992,1997 and 2002.

This 2008 Edition has been renamed as Medical Procedures and Services Nomenclature and Schedule of Relative Values (hereinafter referred to as MPSN®) and is protected by copyright and is the property of the MMA as were the previous editions of the Fee Schedule. The 2008 MPSN® is produced by kind permission of materials from the BUPA Schedule of Procedures (1995) of the British United Provident Association Ltd. London, United Kingdom. The BUPA Schedule of Procedures (1995) is based on the UK Office of Population Censuses and Surveys. Classification of Operations and Surgical Procedures 4th Edition © Crown Copyright 1987 and has been used by kind permission of the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office.

In addition to the above, the MPSN® (2008) is the result of work developed by the Health Insurance Committee (HIC) of the MMA. Advice and suggestions by a large number of medical organisations and societies were taken into account. These were via discussions, consultations, written feedback and review of similar fees guidelines published by sister bodies from within and outside the country.

The 5th Edition has been further revised in 2019 and as published as Version 1.1 and in 2020 as Version 2.0. These two are substantially the same as version 1.0 except that new procedures approved by the Ministry of Health have been added.

INTRODUCTION AND NOTES

TO THE MEDICAL PROCEDURES AND SERVICES NOMENCLATURE (MPSN ®) AND SCHEDULE OF RELATIVE VALUES FIFTH EDITION Version 2.0 (2020)

GENERAL

1. The Malaysian Medical Association (MMA) first released a Schedule of Fees in 1987. The Fifth Edition, now renamed as Medical Procedures and Services Nomenclature (MPSN ®) (2008) and Schedule of Relative Values (RV). The Fifth Edition was revised in 2019 and published as Version 1.1 and further revised in 2020 and published as Version 2.0
2. The previous Schedule, Fourth Edition, was published in 2002 and the changes from the Third Edition reflected a 10% increase in consultation and procedural fees as compared with the Third Schedule in 1997.
3. A major part of the Fourth Schedule was incorporated into the Thirteenth Schedule (Regulation 433) of the Private Healthcare Facilities and Services Regulations 2006. This law governs the professional fees of all medical practitioners in Malaysia.
4. This Fifth Schedule is the result of work developed by the Health Insurance Committee (HIC) of the MMA. Advice and suggestions by a large number of medical organisations and societies were taken into account. These were via discussions, consultations, written feedback and review of similar fees guidelines published by sister bodies from within and outside the country.
- 5.

OBJECTIVES

1. The MPSN® aims to provide a comprehensive classification of medical procedures and services and provide a guideline of relative value (RV) for calculation of fees. The RVs have been adopted by the MMA after careful study and investigation of practice costs and other relevant and material circumstances as being, in its opinion, fair and reasonable and appropriate for the services provided by the medical professional, is fair to the consumer (patient), health care insurers and third party payors (TPP).
2. This Schedule is intended to be a guide for all stakeholders in healthcare in Malaysia. The Schedule of Relative value is provided as guidance for calculating the fees only. As such, statements to the effect that fees charged are MMA recommended fees should not be used in any billing or in any other form.

PRINCIPLES

1. The MPSN® and Schedule of Relative Value is for the medical practitioners (Medical doctors) only.
2. The Relative Value of each service in this Schedule is based on the following factors:

- 2.1 Professional work that encompasses the medical complexity of the procedure/service; the level of expertise required; the time expended in provision of the service;
- 2.2 limited cost of practice
- 2.3 professional liability insurance

These three are based on the following factors:

- 2.4 the medical complexity of the procedure/service;
- 2.5 the level of expertise required;
- 2.6 the time expended in provision of the service;
- 2.7 the resources required for the provision of the service;
- 2.8 medical liability and risks involved in the particular procedure

3. The Relative Values indicated in this Schedule are based on the fees in the previous Schedules. Increases were allowed to reflect inflation over the last six years.

4. The Health Insurance Committee used information and feedback from the various (mostly Malaysian) sources described above in developing the Ringgit values in this Schedule.

5. This Schedule is therefore not a direct adoption of the BUPA Schedule of Procedures as in previous Schedules. Instead, the varying increases for different services and procedures tend to reflect prevailing market profiles in Malaysia.

6. Similarly, the coding system for the different procedures has been expanded to accommodate new procedures. The new coding system is therefore also not a direct adoption of the OPCS Classification of Operations and Surgical Procedures as employed previously.

7. A new feature in this Edition is the Conversion Factor Table which replaces the Look Up Table in the previous Editions of the Fee Schedule. Procedures are classified into 25 categories, ranging from MINOR 1 to CMO 5 for surgical and anaesthesiology procedures with a Conversion Factor for each category. The Conversion Factor is the indicative value of the cost of providing the service. This has been calculated from the previous fee schedules and taking into consideration the inflation in the intervening period from the publication of the 4th Edition.

8. Various technical aspects in the development of this Schedule involve:

- 8.1 Deletion of outdated or obscure operations and procedures;
- 8.2 Introduction of new procedures;
- 8.3 Updating the names of certain procedures;
- 8.4 Increases in conversion factor for each procedure have been kept reasonable using limitations set and imposed by the Health Insurance Committee.

9. A new feature in this Edition is the Conversion Factor Table (previously known as Look Up Table). The Conversion Factor is the indicative value of the cost of providing the service. This has been calculated from the previous fee schedules and taking into consideration the inflation in the intervening period from the publication of the 4th Edition.

- 10. This Version 2.0 (2020) contains new procedures that have been approved by the Ministry of Health from 2013 till January 2020 and these procedures can be found in the Addendum at the end of Part B (Pages 78-79)

SUMMARY OF SCHEDULE CONTENTS

1. This Schedule is divided into two parts – Part A and Part B.
2. Part A consists of Relative Values for consultation and general procedures. These are mostly non-interventional.
3. Part B consists of (mostly) interventional or operative procedures. These procedures have been classified into 25 categories. Each category has a conversion factor (in Malaysian Ringgit) value for surgeon and anaesthetist attached to it.
4. The two respective Relative Values and Conversion Factor Tables are printed on Page 41 and Page 42.

GUIDELINES FOR BILLING / INVOICING FOR SERVICES

1. PROFESSIONAL CHARGES: The RV for a procedure shall be the same for all medical practitioners, irrespective of specialty unless stated otherwise.
2. The relative value (RV) in this schedule refers to professional or work component, limited cost of practice, medical liability insurance only. Charges for non-professional items are not included in this Schedule. The total fees charged for a procedure may include additional charges for equipment used, utilisation of facilities e.g. operating theatre, and consumables like needles, sutures, catheters, GST and other taxes if applicable.
3. As required by the Code of Professional Conduct of the Malaysian Medical Council, the medical practitioners, where practicable, must provide patients (or a third party/guardian responsible for the financial affairs) with sufficient information regarding the fees chargeable so that the patient is able to make an informed financial decision.
4. Medical practitioners should at all times regard themselves as being free, and indeed duty bound, to make their own judgment as to what fees they will charge for any service within the limitations of any statutory regulations that may be in force at the time.
5. On occasions, the complexity of the consultation or procedure may warrant charges in excess of the relative values recommended in this Schedule, the medical practitioners are advised to inform, discuss and obtain written agreement of the patient or the Third Party Payors and any regulatory agency that may be involved in the payment or determination of fees under the Regulations.
6. Medical practitioners may continue their practice of reducing fees for patients at their own discretion for deserving patients in exceptional circumstances.
7. Where a procedure comprises of a combination of procedures that are customarily performed together and for which a specified combined procedure is provided in the Schedule, the procedure shall not be fragmented or unbundled in the computation of fees.

MULTIPLE PROCEDURES

8. When two or more procedures are done through the same incision on a patient at a particular time, the Surgeon fees shall be calculated as 100 percent of the surgical procedure with the highest relative value and 50 percent of the fees chargeable for each of the procedures with lesser relative values.
9. When two or more procedures are done through the same incision on a patient at a particular time, the Anaesthesiologist fees shall be calculated as 100 percent of the highest relative value for the anaesthetic procedure and 50 percent of the fees chargeable for each of the procedures with lesser relative values.

10. When two or more procedures are done through separate incisions on a patient at a particular time:

10.1 Surgeon fees are calculated as follows:

- 10.2.1 procedure with the highest relative will be charged as 100%
- 10.2.2 procedure(s) with the lesser relative value will be charged as 75%

10.2 Anaesthesiologist fees are calculated as follows:

- 10.2.1 procedure with the highest relative will be charged as 100%
- 10.2.2 procedure(s) with the lesser relative value will be charged as 75%

11. When a procedure requires the services of a second practitioner (Assistant), the fees charged by the second practitioner (Assistant), shall not exceed 50 percent of the fees charged by the primary (first) practitioner for the procedure(s). This situation is usually met in complex operations requiring two surgeons in the interest of patient safety, operative efficiency and quality of care. Examples include liver resection or complex scoliosis surgery.

12. In such a situation, the anaesthetist fees shall be calculated based on the anaesthetist relative values of all the procedures performed by the primary (first) practitioner.

13. When a procedure requires a second anaesthetist, in the interest of the patient safety and quality of care (e.g. during long and complex procedures) the fees charged by the second anaesthetist shall not exceed 50 percent of the fees charged by the primary (first) anaesthetist for the procedure.

14. For procedures performed under local anaesthesia (LA), and when this LA is administered by the operating practitioner, a charge not exceeding 20 percent of the procedure fee or RM 125, whichever is lower may be levied.

15. Procedure fees apply whether the operation is performed as an elective or emergency procedure.

DISCLAIMER

1. Despite extensive efforts, discrepancies and omissions may exist in a Schedule of this magnitude and diversity.

2. We welcome any comments, especially on anomalies detected in the Schedule, and will endeavour to include these in future editions of the Schedule.

3. If anomalies do occur, we believe that medical practitioners will use their own discretion and goodwill in the application of the Schedule so that the interests of all parties are protected.

4. The Schedule of Relative Values is provided as guidance for calculating the fees only. As such, statements to the effect that fees charged are MMA recommended fees should not be used in any billing or in any other form.

When regional anaesthesia (infiltration, nerve blocks, plexus blocks, central neural blocks) is established as the principle means of anaesthesia for a surgical procedure, the fee charged shall follow the same category in Part B.

5. ANAESTHESIA FOR MULTIPLE SURGICAL PROCEDURES

When multiple surgical procedures are performed during the same anaesthetic, the fees charged shall be as given in the section Guidelines for Billing /Invoicing for Services in the Introduction and Notes (Refer When a procedure requires a second anaesthetist in the interest of patient safety and quality of care (e.g. during long and complex procedures) the fees charged by the second anaesthetist shall not exceed 50 percent of the fees charged by the primary (first) anaesthetist for the procedure.

6. POST ANAESTHESIA CARE

Continued post anaesthesia care in the ward or intensive care unit shall follow the schedule for the Specialists Consultation and Follow Up fees in Part A. (Refer pages 4-5).
